INDEPENDENT CONTRACTOR AGREEMENT

This Independent Contractor Agreement ("Agreement") is made as of the date set forth above ("Effective Date") by and between Company Name _____, ("Company") and the consultant set forth above ("Consultant"). Company and the Consultant are each a "Party" and are collectively referred to as the "Parties."

In consideration of the mutual obligations set forth in this Agreement, the Parties agree as follows:

1. Services.

1.1 Request. From time to time during the Period of Consultancy (as defined below), Company may request Consultant to provide certain services for Company. Company's request will specify the services to be performed and the specific results to be achieved ("Services") by use of the form attached hereto as Exhibit A ("Project Description").

1.2 Performance. Company shall authorize Consultant to perform the Services upon the execution by both Parties of the Project Description. Consultant agrees to use its commercially reasonable efforts to perform the Services during the Period of Consultancy (as defined below).

1.3 Period of Consultancy. The "Period of Consultancy" shall commence on the Effective Date and shall terminate pursuant to the Project Description in Exhibit A.

1.4 Payment. Company shall pay Consultant, as sole consideration for Consultant's performance of the Services, such amounts and upon such terms as set forth in the applicable Project Description.

2. Relationship of Parties.

2.1 Independent Contractor. Consultant acknowledges and agrees that Consultant is an independent contractor and is not an agent or employee of Company and has no authority to bind Company by contract or otherwise. Consultant shall perform the Services under the general direction of Company.

2.2 Employment Taxes and Benefits. Consultant shall report as self-employment income any compensation received by Consultant from Company pursuant to this Agreement. Consultant shall indemnify Company and any of its agents, representatives, subsidiaries, parent company, officers, directors and members, and hold Company harmless from and against all claims, damages, losses and expenses, including reasonable attorney's fees and costs, and expenses from other professionals, relating to any obligation of Company to pay any withholding taxes, social security, unemployment or disability insurance, or similar items in connection with compensation received by Consultant pursuant to this Agreement. Consultant shall not be entitled to receive any vacation or illness payments, or to participate in any plans, arrangements, or distributions by Company pertaining to any bonus, profit sharing or similar benefits all of which are available to Company's employees.

2.3 Liability Insurance. Consultant shall maintain adequate insurance to protect Consultant from the following: (a) claims for damages because of bodily injury, sickness, disease or death which arise out of any negligent act or omission of Consultant; and (b) claims for damages because of injury or destruction of tangible or intangible property, including loss of use resulting there from, which arise out of any negligent act or omission of Consultant. Consultant understands and agrees that Company is not responsible for maintaining, and will not maintain, any such insurance.

3. Property of Company.

3.1 Definition. For the purposes of this Agreement, "Designs and Materials" shall mean all designs, discoveries, inventions, products, computer programs, procedures, business plans, revenue models, customer lists, marketing approaches or any similar business information, improvements, developments, drawings, notes, documents, information and materials made, conceived or developed by Consultant alone or with others which result from or relate to the Services.

3.2 Assignment of Ownership. Consultant acknowledges that any work prepared by Consultant under this Agreement shall be considered "work for hire" and the exclusive property of the Company. Consultant hereby irrevocably transfers and assigns to Company any and all of its right, title, and interest in and to Designs and Materials, including, but not limited to, any copyrights, patent rights, trade secrets and trademarks. Designs and Materials will be the sole and exclusive property of Company, and Company shall have the sole right to determine the treatment of any Designs and Materials, including the right to keep them as trade secrets, to file and execute patent applications on them, to use and disclose them without prior patent application, to file registrations for copyright or trademark on them in its own name, or to follow any other procedure that Company deems appropriate. Consultant agrees: (a) to disclose promptly in writing to Company all Designs and Materials; (b) to cooperate with and assist Company to apply for, and to execute any applications and/or assignments reasonably necessary to obtain, any patent, copyright, trademark or other statutory protection for Designs and Materials in Company's name as Company deems appropriate; and (c) to otherwise treat all Designs and Materials as Confidential Information, as defined below. These obligations to disclose, assist and assign survive the termination of this Agreement.

3.3 Moral Rights Waiver. "Moral Rights" means any right to claim authorship of a work, any right to object to any distortion or other modification of a work, and any similar right, existing under the law of any country in the world, or under any treaty. Consultant hereby irrevocably transfers and assigns to Company any and all Moral Rights that Consultant may have in any Services, Designs and Materials generated during the execution of the work described in the Project Description (Exhibit A). Consultant also forever waives and agrees never to assert against Company, its successors, assigns or licensees any and all Moral Rights Consultant may have in any Services, Designs and Materials generated during the execution of the work described in the Project Description (Exhibit A), even after expiration or termination of the Period of Consultancy.

4. Confidential Information. Consultant agrees and acknowledges that Consultant will acquire information and materials from Company and knowledge about the business, products, programming techniques, experimental work, customers, clients and suppliers of Company and that all such knowledge, information and materials acquired, the existence, terms and conditions of this Agreement, and the Designs and Materials, are and will be the trade secrets and confidential and proprietary information of Company (collectively "Confidential Information"). Confidential Information will not include, however, any information which is or becomes part of the public domain through no fault of Consultant, or any information which Company regularly gives to third parties without restriction on use or disclosure, excluding information provided to financial companies for the purpose of raising capital, or any information that is now rightfully in the possession of Consultant without any obligation of confidentiality. Consultant agrees to hold all such Confidential Information in strict confidence, not to disclose it to others or use it in any way, commercially or otherwise, except in performing the Services, and not to allow any unauthorized person access to it, either before or after expiration or termination of this Agreement. Consultant further agrees to take all action reasonably necessary to protect the confidentiality of the Confidential Information including, without limitation, implementing and enforcing operating procedures to minimize the possibility of unauthorized access to, use of, or copying of the Confidential Information. Consultant further agrees not to disclose any Confidential Information to any third party when performing the Services for Company without prior written approval by Company. Notwithstanding the foregoing nondisclosure obligations, pursuant to 18 USC Section 1833(b), Consultant shall not be held criminally or civilly liable under any federal or state trade secret law for the disclosure of a trade secret that is made: (1) in confidence to a federal, state, or local government official, either directly or indirectly, or to an attorney, and solely for the purpose of reporting or investigating a suspected violation of law; or (2) in a complaint or other document filed in a lawsuit or other proceeding, if such filing is made under seal.

4.1 Third Party Confidential Information. Consultant agrees and acknowledges that Consultant may acquire or have acquired information and materials from former or concurrent clients or employers, or other third parties under non-disclosure agreements (collectively "Third Parties"), including knowledge about the business, products, programming techniques, experimental work, customers, clients and suppliers of those Third Parties

(collectively, "Third Party Confidential Information"). Third Party Confidential Information will not include, however, any information which is or becomes part of the public domain through no fault of Consultant, or any information which Third Parties regularly divulge publicly without restriction on use or disclosure, excluding information provided to financial companies for the purpose of raising capital, or any information that is now rightfully in the possession of Consultant without any obligation of confidentiality. Consultant agrees to hold all such Third Party Confidential Information in strict confidence, not to disclose it in any way to any person who is employed with or consults for Company, nor to any customer or vendor of Company, nor to any other person, without prior written consent from the Third Party from whom the Third Party Confidential Information was received. Consultant agrees to abide by terms of any prior agreements in which Consultant has entered, and agrees not to incorporate such Third Party Confidential Information in any of Consultant's Services, Designs and Materials performed for or generated for Company. Consultant shall notify Company promptly if such constraints create a conflict of interest with regard to any particular task, project, or portion thereof.

4.2 Pre-existing Intellectual Property. Consultant agrees to divulge prior to the start of the Period of Consultancy, if possible, or in any case, at the earliest opportunity prior to any such use, any Pre-existing Intellectual Property which is owned by Consultant or used with permission by Consultant, which Consultant intends to use in the performance of their duties, or to incorporate in any way into the Service, Design and Materials of any Company project or property. Unless alternate prior written agreement is made between Consultant and Company, should Consultant incorporate such Pre-existing Intellectual Property into any Company product, design, or service, Consultant grants Company limited, non-exclusive license to such Property for the lifetime of the product, design or service in which it is incorporated, and in any derivative works, and warrants that Consultant is empowered to grant such license.

5. Indemnification by Consultant. Consultant shall indemnify Company and hold Company harmless from and against all claims, damages, losses and expenses, including court costs and reasonable fees and expenses of attorneys, expert witnesses, and other professionals, arising out of or resulting from: (a) any action against Company which is based upon any claim that any Services performed under this Agreement, or their results, infringe a patent, copyright or other proprietary right or violate Confidential Information or a trade secret; and (b) any action against Company which is based upon any negligent act or omission or willful conduct of Consultant related to Consultant's performance of Services, which results in: (i) any bodily injury, sickness, disease or death; (ii) any injury or destruction to tangible or intangible property (including computer programs and data) or any loss of use resulting therefrom by the injury or destruction to tangible or intangible property; or (iii) any violation of any statute, ordinance, or regulation.

6. Termination and Expiration.

6.1 Breach. Either party may terminate this Agreement in the event of a breach by the other party of this Agreement.

6.2 Notice. Company may terminate this Agreement, for any reason or no reason, upon Thirty (30) days written notice to the Consultant. Consultant may terminate this Agreement for any reason or no reason upon Thirty (30) days written notice to Company. In the event there are uncompleted services at the time of termination, Company shall not be obligated to pay for the portion of services completed.

6.3 Expiration. Unless terminated earlier, this Agreement will expire at the end of the Period of Consultancy.

6.4 No Election of Remedies. The election by Company to terminate this Agreement in accordance with its terms shall not be deemed an election of remedies, and all other remedies provided by this Agreement or available at law or in equity shall survive any termination.

7. Effect of Expiration or Termination. Upon the expiration or termination of this Agreement for any reason: (a) each party shall be released from all obligations to the other arising after the date of expiration or termination, except that expiration or termination of this Agreement will not relieve Consultant of its obligations under Sections 2(b), 3, 4, 5, 7, 8, 9(c) and 10, nor shall expiration or termination relieve Consultant or Company from any liability arising from any breach of this Agreement; and (b) Consultant shall promptly notify Company of all Confidential Information and trade secrets, including but not limited to the Designs and Materials, in Consultant's possession and, at the expense of Consultant and in accordance with Company's instructions, Consultant shall promptly deliver to Company all such Confidential Information or certify as to the destruction of the Confidential Information

8. Covenants.

8.1 Breach. Either party may terminate this Agreement in the event of a breach of this Agreement by the other party.

8.2 Preexisting Obligations. Consultant represents and warrants that Consultant is not under any preexisting obligation inconsistent with the provisions of this Agreement.

8.3 Solicitation of Employment. Because of the trade secret subject matter of Company's business, Consultant agrees that Consultant shall not solicit the services of any of the employees, consultants, suppliers or customers of Company for the Period of Consultancy.

9. General.

9.1 Breach. Either party may terminate this Agreement.

9.2 Assignment. Consultant may not assign Consultant's rights or delegate Consultant's duties under this Agreement either in whole or in part without the prior written consent of Company. Any attempted assignment or delegation without such consent shall be void.

9.3 Equitable Remedies. Because the Services are personal and unique to Consultant, and because Consultant shall have access to Confidential Information of Company, Company will have the right to enforce this Agreement and any of its provisions by injunction, specific performance or other equitable relief without prejudice to any other rights and remedies that Company may have for a breach of this Agreement.

9.4 Attorneys' Fees. If any action is necessary to enforce the terms of this Agreement, the prevailing party shall be entitled to reasonable attorneys' fees, costs and expenses in addition to any other relief to which such prevailing party may be entitled.

9.5 Governing Law; Severability. This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the United Kingdom. If any provision of this Agreement is for any reason found to be unenforceable, the remainder of this Agreement shall continue in full force and effect.

9.6 Notices. Any notices under this Agreement shall be sent by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested, to the address specified below or such other address as the party specifies in writing. Such notice shall be effective upon its mailing as specified.

9.7 Arbitration. Any controversy or claim arising out of or relating to the relationship between the Parties, this Agreement or the breach thereof, whether it be statutory, contractual, or otherwise, shall be settled by arbitration in accordance with the arbitration rules of the United Kingdom, and judgment upon the award rendered by the arbitrators may be entered in any court having jurisdiction thereof.

9.8 Applicable Law. This Agreement, its execution, interpretation and performance shall be governed by the laws of the United Kingdom. Consultant does hereby consent to and submits to the jurisdiction of the UK for any action arising under this Agreement and agrees that process may be served upon him in any manner provided by the laws of said State.

9.9 Complete Understanding; Modification. This Agreement, together with each version of Exhibit A executed by the Parties, constitutes the complete and exclusive understanding and agreement of the Parties and supersedes all prior understandings and agreements, whether written or oral, with respect to the subject matter hereof. Any waiver, modification or amendment of any provision of this Agreement shall be effective only if in writing and signed by the Parties hereto. This Agreement is the result of mutual drafting. The Parties have consulted with attorneys' prior to signing and understand the import of this Agreement.
